FLOOR DEBATE

March 28, 2002 LB 791

SENATOR REDFIELD: All right. Thank you very much. In here, we are holding the state's programs harmless. We're saying you're going to get at least the same amount of money...

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: One minute.

SENATOR REDFIELD: ...that you received in 2000-2001. But we don't say they're going to get more. And so we're not going to see a gain to the state. We're going to only guarantee that they are going to remain at that state. But there are some people who could benefit and see some gain from this. I didn't support the bill. I don't want to encourage this activity and certainly I have a question about who's really gaining here. Thank you very much.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Janssen.

SENATOR JANSSEN: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Senator Redfield, you say that we won't...they won't get any more than 18 percent. If 18 percent is more, if the volume goes up, over what the 25 percent would have been, that one will happen. There won't be a floor on that. If 18 percent brings in more than the 25 percent does, fine. That's the way it works. Hopefully, that's what will happen. But to put the safeguard in, we put a floor in there that will not go any lower than what it is right now. In five years, if that hasn't happened, it sunsets, it goes away. Hopefully, the 18 percent will bring in more money. That amount is going to the trust fund, and it can go up. It will not be what...at its...what it is right now. The bill specifically says that. And the contractors have an agreement with the state at a certain percentage. The contractual services all together is 10.52 percent. Right now the prizes go out at about, on an average, of about 54.6 percent. The retailers' compensation is 6.87 percent in a total. That is all of the compensation together, out of the whole total of the earnings of sales. But the contractor has a certain percentage that he gets. The retailer gets the five percent, or the nickel, for every scratch ticket they sell. We are not trying...and I don't believe that this will entice more people to play. I believe that you...and from experience in my retail store, we have a certain amount of people that will buy those
